ABOUT:

Op. Dr. Can Arat is a distinguished specialist in the field of urology, recognized for his extensive clinical experience, international training background, and comprehensive medical practice. He was educated at prestigious institutions such as Istanbul Erkek High School and Istanbul University Istanbul Faculty of Medicine, where he completed both his medical degree and specialty training, building a strong academic foundation for his professional career.

Throughout his career, Dr. Arat has worked in both private healthcare institutions and public hospitals, providing care to a broad patient population with over 30 years of clinical experience. His international experience at Aarau Cantonal Hospital in Switzerland further strengthened his expertise in modern urological approaches and advanced surgical techniques.

With a particular focus on uro-oncology, Dr. Arat specializes in the treatment of prostate diseases, erectile dysfunction, penile prosthesis surgery, and urinary stone diseases. By closely following current medical advancements, he provides safe, effective, and long-term solutions, adopting a comprehensive approach that integrates both surgical and medical treatments in male and female urology. As of 2026, he continues his practice at Quartz Surgical Medical Center, offering advanced surgical procedures and modern urological treatments at high standards.
